Modeled Sustained Silent Reading 身教式持续安静阅读

15 minutes read

One period per week (15 minutes read, 15 minutes share.)

- Students are allowed to take charge of their own reading.
- They are free to choose books that interest them, instead of being assigned specific books to read.
- The classroom is quiet for 15 minutes. The teacher is sitting at his/her desk reading a book of his/her choice. Each student in the class is sitting at his/her desk, silently reading a book of choice.
- Students form their reading habit by regular immersion in a conducive environment for individual silent reading during curriculum time.

Teachers:

- Dedicate regular reading time and physical space;
- Provide students with side selection of books books chosen are based on personal interest and difficulty levels.
- Model joyful silent reading during MSSR;
- Allow students to make decisions for their own reading choices;
- Encourage students to read whenever they have free time, e.g. during change of periods.
- Not to dictate the books children read, tell or force students to finish any books;
- Not to ask students to submit book reviews.

Portrayal -Avvaiyaar, the Tamil Poet Recitation of Tamil poems

My name is Devadhaardhni from 45. I am portraying the character of Avvaiyaar the Tamil poet. The story is about how a young boy tricked her. Avvaiyaar had a momentary pride and thought that the boy was illiterate and she was knowledgeable. This incident made her realise that nobody should be neglected.
